About the Photographer:

Formerly a live music photographer, Pittsburgh native Rick Szymanski brought his talents to the world of weddings in 2007 after encountering the difficulty of finding a photographer for his own big day. With little as far as advertising, word-of-mouth about his exceptional work quickly launched his business to the forefront. To date, Rick has documented over 100 weddings and engagements. His work has been published in magazines, newspapers, and several national websites. He has also been honored with having his fine art hang on museum walls.
