About the Photographer:

Formerly a live music photographer, Pittsburgh native Rick Szymanski brought his talents to the world of weddings in 2007 after encountering the difficulty of finding a photographer for his own big day. With little as far as advertising, word-of-mouth about his exceptional work quickly launched his business to the forefront. To date, Rick has documented over 100 weddings and engagements. His work has been published in magazines, newspapers, and several national websites. He has also been honored with having his fine art hang in museums and galleries.

You keep the digital photos

The images are yours. Print whenever and wherever you want. No watermarks or printing restrictions. You can even make copies!

All day coverage available

There is no set time limit. And with most packages, I document your entire day - beginning to end. No overtime fees. No hassles!

Online photo gallery

Share your photos with family and friends. They can view your wedding as a slideshow and even make prints right at their computers!
